Message from our bishop Bohdan:

I am pleased to share with you the 2024 financial statements for the Eparchy, together with letters from Father Steven Paliwoda and myself which explain many items in the statements. You can be proud that your Eparchy’s auditing by an independent accounting firm, publishing its financial statements online, and distributing them to all of our parishes, makes us one of the most financially transparent Catholic dioceses in the world. I will be pleased to receive your financial statements as well.

Copies are available in our church vestibule. These materials are available on the Eparchy’s website at www.stjosaphateparchy.com/financial-statements/.

Just as it is important for the Ukrainian Catholic Eparchy of Saint Josaphat in Parma to be a good steward of the gifts entrusted to it, and transparent about its finances, it is also very important for every parish to be accountable to the faithful and transparent in its finances, who support the Church and for whom the Church exists to serve.

ATTENTION:

Apricot, nut and poppyseed rolls (kolachi) are still available for $15; and small plain and raisen paskas (bread) for $4. Also, there are limited quantities of pyrohy/perogies and holubchi (stuffed cabbage).

SAFE ENVIRONMENT & OUTING:

Attention all parents and children in the parish.. On Sunday, July 27th following Divine liturgy we will be showing the DVD for safe environment within the parish protecting and empowering God's children.. this is a requirement of the church. If you choose to not have your children view this DVD as parents, you will need to sign an exemption form that we turn in to the eparchy. Following this, we would like to have the families join us for an outing of miniature golf and ice cream. Church will be funding, golf and ice cream for all the children. Any adults who choose to golf will be paying for themselves. The venue will be announced shortly. Families will need to transport their own children or make arrangements with another family. We look forward to a fun-filled fellowship afternoon. For any questions please contact Dr. Maria Griffiths or Father Sal.
